Junior Citizens Receive Awards

Glenna Horvath of Drayton Valley was among the nine young Albertans honored with Junior Citizen of the Year Awards at the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association annual convention in the Capri Motor Hotel in Red Deer last weekend.

The awards for meritorious service to home or community are presented annually by Canadian Utilities Company and Calgary Power in conjunction with the A.W.N.A.

Award winners were Margaret Griebel, 16, of Castor; Thomas Aspin, 15, of Berwyn; Gail Brunner, 16, of Acadia Valley; Joni Gayle Brewster, 10, of Bowden; Glenna Horvath, 15, of Drayton Valley; Darlene Kopores, 15, of Ponoka; Wanda Krebs, 14, of Didsbury; Dean Wolf, 10, of Beiseker; and Patricia Zemanek, 14, of Viking.

Winning the group award was class 91 of Sherwood Heights School in Sherwood Park.

In making the presentations Lt. Gov. Grant MacEwan said there is nothing more important to Canada's future than the young people who will be its leaders.

Dr. MacEwan added that he is glad that award ceremonies such as this put the "spotlight where it belongs. On the good, solid, generous and able young people of today."

Canada's history is 99 percent biography; it is a story of people, the lieutenant-governor, who is a noted historian in his own right, stated, and while "it is important to look back and honor greatness of the past, we must also think about the future and see what we can do to encourage greatness among young Canadians."

Miss Horvath won her award for saving younger members of the family from a fire that destroyed their home on April 30th. She was nominated for the award by Mrs. Carol Shiek of Drayton Valley and her nomination submitted to Calgary Power Limited by The Western Review.

Spartans Defeat City Team

The Bantam aged players of the FMHS Spartans downed Edmonton Jenner Motors football club 32-6 in a game played Sunday afternoon in Drayton Valley.

Spartan majors were scored by Ricky Gabrielson, Don Bartlett and Doug Ibbitson. Other Drayton Valley scoring was on a convert single pass play to end Ron Wilson, a single by Don Bouschard and a two point safety touch by the defensive team at the end of the game.

The contest was a wide open affair with many passes thrown by both clubs. Stan Oulton of the Spartans made two fine receptions for long yardage that led to Drayton touchdowns by Doug Ibbitson and Ricky Gabrielson. Doug Ibbitson carrying over from the one and Ricky Gabrielson open in the end zone for a 30 yd. pass from quarterback Ibbitson.

The strong defensive line of the Spartans held the Edmonton team to one major. Leading the defensive charge were Larry Mattoon and Ken Fink along with Bob Pattison, Jack Tucker, Jerry Obst and Ron Cameron.

Most of the Spartans in this game were young and will be with the team for another two or three years, which indicates a solid foundation for many successful years of twelve man football at the Frank Maddock High School. The Spartans will be closing out this season with a game in Rimbey, Tuesday October 24th.

The coaching staff and directive personnel of the FMHS Spartan football team would like to express a note of thank you to certain individuals of this community that made this season possible; the Drayton Valley Athletic Association who provided the uniforms on a rental purchase plan; Mr. Michael Gormley who aided in arranging a schedule and who supplied referees for home contests; to Bill and Dave Disney who capably handled a great deal of the officiating burden. To Clayton Rosenberger, president of the Athletic Association, for his sincere interest for the success of the team and to all the parents of Drayton Valley who cared enough to come and support their son or the neighbors boy by cheering them on at the game.

Loyalists Seek New Lands

Loyalists moving to their new lands. In all, probably 35,000 Loyalists migrated to the Maritimes, refugees from the losing British side of the American Revolution.

"I climbed to the top of Chipman's hill and watched the sails disappearing in the distance, and such a feeling of loneliness came over me that, although I had not shed a tear throughout all the war, I sat down on the damp moss with my baby in my lap and cried." The grandmother of Sir Leonard Tilley thus described her arrival in 1783 as a Loyalist refugee from New York.

The property of the Loyalists had been confiscated almost everywhere in the 13 newly independent states, where they were outnumbered about 2 to 1; and their debts had been repudiated. The British government had come to their rescue with transportation and promises of a new land in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Arriving in three main flotillas during the year, most of the civilian refugees settled in the Nova Scotian peninsula lining the southwestern seaboard, established a mushroom town at Shelbourne, and filled in vacant spaces in the north-eastern part of the peninsula. A few hundred went to Cape Breton and Prince Edward Island. The later arrivals included about 4,000 disbanded soldiers with their women and children. They had to squat near the mouth of the St. John River, because some of the land in the area was tied up in previous grants, and the rest was unsurveyed; eventually they had to move several miles inland, where they settled on both banks of the St. John and up the east bank of the St. Croix River.

At first the settlers were supplied with materials and tools to build their houses but the supply gave out. The late-comers who were forced to go further up the river, had to carve their homes out of the forest; but the supply of axes gave out and many of the disbanded soldiers, much to their disgust, were issued small hatchets. During their first winter some had to shelter themselves in huts of bark or in tents banked up with snow. Some of their women and children died of exposure and malnutrition.

The complaints of the Loyalists over their plight and the lack of adequate preparations for them, led the British government to set up a new province for them north of the Bay of Fundy. In 1784, New Brunswick was formed under an appointed governor and its own executive council, composed mainly of Loyalists; the next year elections were held.

The refugees who went to Prince Edward Island had great difficulty in obtaining titles to the lands on which they settled. Most of Prince Edward Island had already been granted to large landed proprietors, and these tried to compel the settlers to become tenants, instead of owners of their own lands. It was many years before the Loyalists in Prince Edward Island became freeholders.

The settlement of the Maritime provinces by Loyalists was full of tragedy and this, under the circumstances, was perhaps inevitable. A few of the settlers gave up the attempt to wrest a living from the wilderness, and drifted back to their former homes in the United States. Some of the first settlers in what are now Quebec's "eastern townships" were Loyalists. A few others went to Upper Canada. But the sterling qualities of those who remained enabled them to eventually make good.

Canadian Youngsters Help Less Fortunate

Did you know that hundreds of thousands of Canadian youngsters are working to provide a better future for other millions of less fortunate children around the world? Each year at Hallowe'en, more and more Canadian children carry little UNICEF boxes on their "Pennies for UNICEF" rounds. The coins they collect are used by UNICEF—the United Nations Children's Fund—to help provide food and health and schooling for other children whose hope lies in our concern.

Last year, Canadian children collected the astonishing sum of $561,000—literally tons of coins—at Hallowe'en for UNICEF. These coins work wonders around the world, bringing happiness and hope to the world's children.

But more important, perhaps, than the money is the lesson for all of us in the UNICEF Hallowe'en campaign. Our children respond immediately to UNICEF's appeal. For them the issues are simple. Other children need help, so our children give it.

That is why Canadian children carry the orange and black UNICEF boxes at Hallowe'en. That is why you should give generously when they ask you for "Pennies for UNICEF". And, while you are at it, pause a moment to think about the open hearts of children. We can all learn a lesson from them.

MERRY CHRISTMAS COMING FOR FORGERS, SHOPLIFTERS -- It should be another big year for Christmas sales, says Ron Wilkinson, assistant editor of Drug Merchandising, but the sales could be cut into by the shopper who wants to get gifts free by passing bad cheques and stuffing his coat pockets. Shoplifters come out in force around Christmas and unless stores of all kinds are policed and merchandise is stacked properly (below eye level so light-fingered people can't hide behind displays of goods), retailers can expect serious losses which run into the millions each year. But even bigger losses can be expected from forgers, losses that are sometimes almost impossible to recover. No businessman can stay in business if he doesn't take cheques but the average merchant dealing with off-the-street customers is always taking a risk. Police officials give this advice to prevent loss through forged cheques: Hold merchandise until cheque clears; call customer's bank; list identification on back of cheque; check customer's name and address in telephone book or city directory; avoid taking cheques for more than purchase amount and beware of second-party cheques; write down a description of customer and take his car license number; wish yourself luck.

A social evening and dance was held at the Lindale Hall on last Friday evening.

On Saturday, October 14, a goodly number of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kiemele to help them celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. They were presented with a number of lovely gifts for which they graciously thanked all those present.

Mrs. Lester Cropley's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson, of Calgary spent the weekend at their daughter's home.

On Wednesday afternoon a Tupperware party was held at the home of Mrs. Allen Wideman. A number of ladies attended.

We understand that wedding bells will be ringing soon for Faye Travis. A bridal shower will be held in her honor at the home of Mrs. Jim Lawson on the afternoon of Wednesday, October 25th.

Dick Minshull and a group of friends arrived at the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Martin last weekend. These folks motored from Washington, U.S.A. to visit relatives in the Berrymoor district and also to get in a few days big game hunting.

An item appeared in a recent issue of the Edmonton Journal that will be of interest to many people in our area. It concerns one, Ivan Johnny. Most of us will remember when this young fellow attended Lindale School just over a year ago and entertained many of us with his singing and guitar playing. According to the Journal, Ivan now attends school in Whitehorse and has been chosen as one of a group of boys and girls to go on a cross-Canada tour. These young people were chosen for their leadership qualities and scholastic ability.

Entwistle News

Mrs. E. Oliver, Reporter

Sadness has once again come to our community in the recent death of Mr. Ernie Marskell who was once a resident of our district. Funeral services were held on Saturday October 21st and burial was in the Entwistle cemetery. Sympathy is extended to Sybil and son Terry.

On October 14th a surprise party was held in honor of Ruth and Elmer Messenger who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary. Friends and relatives gathered to wish them well. Dancing was the entertainment of the evening. Gifts were presented by the community and the family. A lovely lunch was served to all at the close of the evening.

The Elks Whist drive will be held on October 28th in the Elks Hall.

Ruby and Lefty Layden of Penticton, B.C. spent a few days in Entwistle recently. While here they stayed at the home of Evan and Elsie Seedhouse. They visited some of their old friends here and also their children in Edmonton.

Lately Mr. Henry Bohnet has not been too well. Being in bed for the past few weeks it is hoped that he will improve and once again be able to be up and around.

The Entwistle Home and School which was held on October 11th at 8:15 and a good turn out were present. An executive was elected with the following put in office: President, Don Gylander; Vice-President, Rosemary Hofmann; Secretary, Betty Brown; Treasurer, Elsie Seedhouse. The next meeting will be held November 8th in the school.

Through the O.O.R.P. and the Purple Cross Fund assistance has been given to a nine year old girl in our community. She will attend the Alberta School Hospital at Red Deer, Alberta. This is only one of the many worthwhile endeavours that the Purple Cross Fund do for children up to 18 years of age and where it is badly needed.

Lions Plan Annual Drive for C.N.I.B.

Sixty thousand dollars is to be raised by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in its annual appeal for funds in Alberta. Most of this amount will come through canvasses by service clubs and local groups in communities not served by United Appeals. The amount of $60,000 is an increase of 30 per cent over that received through canvasses last year. CNIB officials said that the larger amount was needed to overcome a deficit of $40,000 last year and to meet a greater demand for services.

Out of the $193,000 expended by CNIB last year, more than $124,000 went towards benefiting the province's blind through adjustment training, home teaching, library, job placement and social services. $14,000 was used by the Institute to prevent blindness and restore sight. The increased cost of such services to a greater number of blind people (now 1713 in Alberta), is also partly due for this year's expanded budget. This, plus a more energetic Eye Service program to prevent blindness and restore sight in the province, will push the estimates of this year's operation to $240,000.

This fall Albertans will be asked to donate through either United Appeals or CNIB canvasses. The canvass in Drayton Valley is conducted by the Lions Club and will take place from October 23rd to November 4th.

Clock Installed

The score clock, purchased by the Drayton Valley Rotary Club as a contribution to the Centennial Civic Centre, has arrived in town and is being installed in the arena by town workmen.

Purchase of the clock was a Rotary community project with funds raised in various undertakings throughout the year.

KEEPPHILLS NEWS

Several of the children in the district have been sick and had to visit their doctor. Mr. and Mrs. Art Bryant both were in Drayton Valley recently to see their doctor after a few weeks of having sore throats and flu.

Michael and Melodie Edge and Vernon Porter spent the weekend with Mrs. Dalton.

About three tenths of an inch of water fell during the last week but the wind was boisterous and cleared away a lot of the leaves from the trees as well as putting telephone lines out of order.

An AGT man from Edmonton was out trying to trace down one of the rural telephone lines that has been giving us much too much noise.

Mr. Fred Strassburger from the Stony Plain area who won several gifts a few months ago on Windfall received his big chair, the final one of the four gifts, last week. He is very pleased with it.

Sad news came recently from Quesnell, B.C. of the death of little Andrea Walker in less than 48 hours of being sick. Andrea is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Walker. Mr. Walker is a brother of Mrs. G. Raymond.

Edward Tattersall plans to be going up north again to work within the next ten days.

Martin Porter received a broken collar bone or shoulder while playing football at the Stony Plain High School last week. He was taken to the Royal Alex Hospital in Edmonton where he spent a few days.

The Keepphills birthday club met at Mrs. Lauder's in October. November 1st will be the final one of the year at Thelma Porter's.

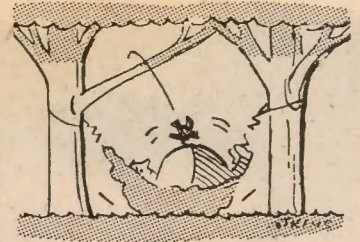

Children are already trying out their skill in making jack-o-lanterns in preparation for Hallowe'en.

Evansburg Boy Among Provincial 4-H Winners

Winners of 1967 awards in the annual 4-H Field Crop Competition are announced by Mervyn H. Jaque, Director of the 4-H and Junior Forest Warden Branch of the Alberta Department of Youth. The sponsors of the contest are the Alberta Wheat Pool, the United Grain Growers, and the Alberta Pacific Grain Company, in co-operation with the Youth Department.

In the junior division, Ted Bruner of Evansburg, was third place winner, scoring 967 points out of a possible 1,000. The first place winner, Lynn Smith of Veteran scored 979 points and second place was taken by Linda Crooks, also of Veteran, with 969 points.

Brian O'Keefe, Regional 4-H Specialist in the Youth Department, travelled throughout the province judging the top two entries from more than 30 4-H field crop clubs in Alberta. Each plot of legumes, grasses or cereals entered in the competition was judged on the basis of uniformity of seeding, stage of maturity, freedom from weeds, disease, insects and other cultivated plants, as well as the attractiveness of the identifying sign.

COLLECTION CENTRE FOR NON-RETURNABLE BOTTLES

The Council of The Town of Drayton Valley, being aware of the problems created by the non-returnable bottle, have authorized that a Collection Centre be set up where such bottles may be exchanged for a small fee. It is hoped that this action will effectively decrease the growing menace of broken bottles littering our Parks, Boulevards, Playgrounds, Streets and Alleys.

While Council is taking this positive approach to the problem they do remind everyone that there is a Litter By-Law presently in effect which carries a penalty of up to $100.00 fine for anyone successfully prosecuted for littering the public grounds, streets or alleys. It is to be noted also that 50% of this penalty may be awarded to the person informing on the litterer.

Council earnestly solicits your co-operation in this venture to insure that only bottles collected within the Town Limits are brought in to the Collection Centre.

The Collection Centre will be opened every Saturday morning between the hours of 9:00 and 12:00 in the forenoon at the Public Works Garage. Every bottle accepted will be paid for at the fee of One (1¢) cent per bottle.

Bring your bottles to the collection centre and make some pocket money while helping to keep the town

the Parliament of Canada

DOUG CASTON

CASTON, Doug

☆ Family Man

Doug Caston and his wife Vi and their seven children (three at home and four married) have been a vibrant part of life in their community for many years.

☆ Community Man

There has been very little going on in the area that Doug through his newspaper and community participation has not had a hand in during the past 30 years (except for service with the RCAF during the war).

☆ Business Experience

As a businessman employing a modest staff he has been beset by and solved many of the problems that operators of small businesses are heir to.

☆ For the Everyday Man

When Doug has taken up the pen it has been with the good of his community in mind. Injustice to anyone, especially the ordinary guy, gets him mad and this is when he thinks he is performing his best community role.

☆ Politics

Through the years Doug has worked and voted for whomever he considered the best men available without worrying about party labels.

Doug's father was a Saskatchewan Conservative when this took some courage during the Liberal regime of that province's early years.

In his teens, as many young men do, Doug experimented with the ideas of monetary reform as advocated by the early Social Credit movement, etc.

Experience has brought him around to the political philosophy of his Conservative father who held that government is for the individual and not the other way around.

☆ Not Afraid

Doug Caston is not afraid to make decisions;

Is not afraid of criticism when he thinks he's right;

Has never been afraid of hard work — he would never have chosen newspapering if he had been;

He has always faced competition head on;

He is not afraid to learn from experience;

Having lived most of his life in the semi-public fish bowl of newspapering where it's open season on editors all the time his taking up of the responsibilities of life in the political arena should be right up his alley.

And he's not afraid to ask for your support in facing up to the principles he believes in.

☆ An Important Election

Doug feels strongly that this by-election is important in spite of the constituency being gerrymandered in redistribution. While some of our constituents will be going into Wetaskiwin and Pembina, the western half of Jasper-Edson will form sixty per cent of the new Rocky Mountain constituency.

Rocky Mountain is a monster, but still the interests of what is left of Jasper-Edson will need a strong voice speaking on their behalf.

☆ The Issues

The interests of farmers in the east part of Jasper-Edson are being threatened by policies being put into effect in Ottawa right now.

Expansion of our petroleum industry is being threatened by the same policy makers in Ottawa.

While on our west side the people of Jasper are being threatened with what amounts to confiscation of their life savings. Their freedom is being circumscribed to the point where they are little better than second class citizens.

You will be well represented by VOTING

Touring Hoopsters Return

Sports fans of Drayton Valley and area are in for true professional sports entertainment on Friday, November 3rd in the Frank Maddock High School Gymnasium when the most colorful of all comedy basketball teams, the Harlem Travellers, play the local high school, FMHS Warriors basketball squad.

During the past two seasons other comedy teams have been brought into Drayton Valley and they left many a memory of a great sports spectacle that the local citizens of the area still recall vividly. It is felt though that the Travellers will be the team that will provide the greatest show yet for local sports fans. The team is in Canada for only a couple of weeks before it returns to the United States and goes on a world tour.

Tickets for the game will be $1 for students and $1.50 for adults. Advance adult tickets will sell for $1.25. The seating capacity will be for 400 people so get your tickets early so as not to be disappointed.

The local Evansburg-Drayton Valley band will be playing at the pre-game warm up and at half time. A great sports spectacle is being brought to Drayton Valley--don't miss it.

Youngsters To Canvass For UNICEF

Hallowe'en is here and once again it's time to think about the underprivileged children around the world. The UNICEF committee, Mrs. Shirley Machan, Mrs. Tom Johnson, Mrs. Eleanor Butz and Mrs. Carol Hoyland, has sectioned off the town this year so that each individual household should expect about five boxes.

Please have your nickles, dimes and quarters ready when the little canvassers come calling. Any individual persons, organizations or companies wishing to contribute could contact one of the above ladies. We would greatly appreciate any contribution regardless of size.

Thankyou for your cooperation. See you on the 31st.

Lodgepole Community Centre was the scene when members of the Lodgepole Lions entertained the ladies of the community at the annual Ladies' Night. The crowd was quite small due to other events being held at the same time. However, those who attended had a most enjoyable evening and Mr. L. Kay, the president of the Lions would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who assisted in any way to make the evening a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Zander, Miss Carol Dykens and Mrs. L. Kay were among those present at the Alberta Teachers' Association induction and reception for new teachers held at the Stony Plain Community Hall.

HINTS FOR THE WOOL-DRESSED WOMAN

1. When you Wear Wool--Sturdy tweeds and other wool fabrics are best for sturdy tasks such as shopping trips. This will reserve your wool velvets and finer woollens for dressy occasions. Lining a straight skirt of light weight or soft spongy woolen with a firm fabric will avoid horizontal wrinkles in the front and back. Another hint--unbuttoning a slim styled coat when you must sit in it for awhile will keep its lines in trim.

2. To Avoid Pressing--Let the wool garment air and rest about 24 hours between wearing again. Most of the wrinkles will be removed because of the elasticity of wool fibres. The natural moisture in the air actually revives the fabrics textures.

3. Hanging in the Closet--Allow enough space between garments so they can hang freely. The best hangers are those that fit the shoulders extending to both shoulder seams. Proper hanging cuts down on the need for pressing and adds years to your wardrobe.

4. Reviving Tired Garments--Fresh air and a quick brushing will work wonders. Brushing gets rid of soiled particles, fluffs the nap and rejuvenates the face of wool fabrics. A light sponging will also restore its freshness. One of the best tricks is to hang it over the shower rod and run the hot water until the wrinkles are steamed away.

5. Rain or Snow--Don't worry about your wool garment if you're caught in the rain or snow. Just let it dry in the normal room temperature. Keep away from a radiator, excess heat and too quick drying methods. A brisk brushing when dry will restore the nap.

6. Oops, A Spill--Treat any spot when fresh, with soap and water or cleaning fluid depending on the nature of the spill. A reliable dry cleaner may be your answer. If the staining liquid is blotted up promptly, the spot may be avoided. Wool has a natural tendency to repel spotting and many wool fabrics now have a stain repellent finish applied.

7. Shaping Wool Knits--never hang knits as long periods of hanging will cause them to stretch. After airing them, a good shaking is in order. Folded flat and kept in a drawer, any wool knit should retain its shape and style.

Plan Wildlife Capability Study

Alberta Agriculture Minister H.E. Strom and Federal Forestry and Rural Development Minister Maurice Sauve have authorized (under the Canada Land Inventory) a national wildlife land capability study for 1967-68. Total cost of the project ($59,867) will be met by the federal government.

The objective is to assess the capability of settled and potentially settled lands to produce ungulate (hooved) wildlife.

Ungulate densities, age and sex composition, and distribution, will be studied over an area of 150,000 square miles, densities to be related to the soil, climate, topographic and vegetative features of the area. The data collected will be useful in the planning of proper land use.

Have you ever wondered...

... if you have a hidden talent just waiting to be discovered.

Everyone has a certain amount of creative ability but, in most cases, expert help is needed to realize and develop this talent. Professional help in all phases of the creative and performing arts is available to everyone in Alberta through the Cultural Development Branch of the Alberta Provincial Secretary's Department. Experts in all phases of arts and crafts, painting, sculpture and ceramics; music, both instrumental and vocal; the theatre arts, acting, directing, stage management and make-up; are available to all age groups in all parts of the province. The only requisite for obtaining this instruction is the formation of a group whose members have a common desire to develop their creative ability. The Cultural Development Branch also provides assistance in the development of libraries; organization, management and administration. Beginning with the exposure of the performing and expressive arts through tours and exhibitions, to financial aid to students in professional art careers, the Cultural Development Branch contributes greatly to the esthetic growth of our province.

... where Community Development begins?

Community Development begins with the people of the community. It is the residents who decide that social and economic problems exist and it is the residents who must take action to solve these problems. If they wish professional assistance, they may invite a Community Development Officer to help them in finding the solutions. His major task in carrying out such an assignment is to create learning situations which, in time, will provide the people of the community with increased knowledge, added skills and greater self-confidence. These attributes, in turn, will allow residents to take a more active part in making decisions which affect them and their community. The Community Development Branch will assist the people of all Alberta communities, in accordance with the province's program on Human Resources Development.

... about the standard of living enjoyed by Alberta's chickens?

Chickens, turkeys and other poultry destined for Alberta's dinner tables enjoy top level living. Poultry producers and processors are required to maintain high standards of operation, facilities and sanitation in order to be licensed by the Poultry Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

To see that these qualities are kept up, the Branch makes regular inspections of housing, ventilation, automation, feeds and feeding, disease prevention and management techniques. To assist in maintaining the standards set, the Branch provides specialized services and technical and statistical information to producers, hatchery operators, processors, feed manufacturers, and allied industries.

... how medical care is provided for the residents of Alberta's sparsely-populated northland?

In an area of 104,000 square miles, with a population density of considerably less than one person per square mile, six Municipal Nurses of the Alberta Department of Health travel by plane, train, car and foot to provide the Northern Alberta Health Service. This is a program of preventive health and emergency treatment which includes immunizing children, delivering babies and treating accident victims. Where necessary, the nurses' services are supplemented by medical specialists flown in to administer to specific needs. In addition to serving the north country, there are seven other Municipal Nursing stations in the province, providing emergency treatment service, public health services and preventive medicine in areas which have no easy access to hospital or medical care. The nurses and the facilities they operate are financed by the Alberta Department of Health, although a small charge is made for treatment, and medications provided for emergency purposes are provided at cost.

... if "agriculture" and "conservation" are really totally incompatible?

Not really. They CAN live together in peace and harmony, and that's a fact that's being proven by the Conservation and Utilization Branch of the Program Development Division, Alberta Department of Agriculture. Under the Branch's Land Assembly Program, areas presently being used for agricultural purposes but which have recreational and conservational potential are being purchased from their owners and are being utilized for all these purposes. In addition, financial assistance is available to farmers who wish to develop new land under the condition that they leave designated portions in a natural state to provide a recreational area and cover for wild game. In this way, Alberta's most valuable land areas have a multiple use, contributing to both agriculture and conservation.

... how Alberta's highways are protected against "cracking up"?

Highways are like humans, they can only take so much pressure before going to pieces. To ensure Alberta's highways of a long and useful life, the weight and size of the vehicles using them are carefully controlled. All primary highways in the province carry a load limit established by the Highway Traffic Board of the Alberta Department of Highways. Any load exceeding these limits must have a special permit. When this is applied for, the Board considers the route selected, the size and nature of the load, number of bridges en route and traffic conditions. If all factors are agreeable, the permit is issued. If changes are necessary, the Board may require the load to be split between two or more trucks, the use of an alternate route, a controlled speed, or other revisions. Enforcement of these regulations allow Alberta motorists full enjoyment of their highways with a minimum of traffic obstruction and ensure a maximum life span for each highway.

Tomahawk and District Club held its monthly meeting October 9th.

A social evening is planned for November 10th. Tickets are available from any member of the club board and must be purchased in advance. Get your tickets early as there are a limited number available.

A new P.A. system is being installed in the Tomahawk Hall. The hall kitchen is receiving a face lifting with the purchase of an electric stove which will be a big help in catering.

Get well wishes are extended to Rudolph Zander who has undergone an operation in Royal Alexander Hospital, and also to Mrs. August Steinke who was in the General Hospital in Edmonton.

Rebels to Host Colonels in Opener

The 1967-68 schedule for the North Central Alberta Intermediate Hockey League was finalized last week. The schedule opens on Tuesday, November 21st in Drayton Valley and Stettler. The Drayton Valley Rebels will host the Wetaskiwin Colonels while Camrose will visit Stettler for a game with the league champions.

The All-Star game between the Stettler Imperials and the League All-Stars will be played in Stettler on Saturday, November 18. Five players from the Rebel organization will play for the All-Star squad.

The regular season schedule features twenty-four games for each team, twelve at home and twelve on the road. Drayton Valley will have home dates on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. The Rebels will be at home on Tuesday evenings five times during the season. They will have two home dates each on Thursdays and Sundays and will play at the local Centennial Civic Centre three times on Saturdays.

All games scheduled during the week will be held at 8:30 p.m. unless otherwise arranged by the League. Sunday games will start at 2:00 p.m. except those played in Stettler which will get under way at 1:30 p.m.

The established price of tickets for all league games is set at $1.00 per adult and $1.25 for all playoff games including possible Provincial Playdowns. Student prices will be 50¢ each, that is for anyone twelve years of age and over who is attending school. Children, eleven years old and under attending school will be admitted for 25¢ each. Pre-schoolers will be admitted free of charge if accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Congratulations to Wilfred and Carol Solomon on the birth of a baby boy. Lisa has a baby brother now.

Tomahawk Curling Club held its first meeting October 2nd. A big thankyou was proposed to all the members who worked so hard to make the curling club float for the 1st of July parade. After much discussion it was decided to insulate and sheet in the East side and North end of the rink and purchase adequate heating equipment to bring the temperature up to above freezing. During the extremely cold weather. This should add greatly to the pleasure of the game. A general meeting will be held October 30th, 1967 and this meeting is open to anyone interested in the roaring game of curling.

It will be of interest to many in the district to know Ed Gilbert and his wife, Mary recently visited his brother, Howard and family, in Tomahawk. Ed has retired after 22 years in the Yukon (Whitehorse and district) with the Department of Transport. He has purchased a home in Summerland, B.C. and being a radio ham will be transmitting from his new home using his old call sign VE 8 A O until he can obtain a VE7 call. His wife, Mary who holds her own call sign VE8DF says she will be more active now on the air that they have retired. His many friends here wish them lots of good health and happiness in their retirement.

HEALTH PLAN

The Alberta Health Plan today announced figures concerning the receipt and payment of claims. Health plan officials say that a total of 212,462 claims had been received by September 10th. By the 18th of October, 210,345 claims had been assessed and passed for payment.

It was announced that six payment runs by the computer have produced cheques amounting to $893,672.54, encompassing 121,000 claims.

Two further payment runs are currently in progress. These involve a further 75,000 claims and will bring the overall total to 196,000 claims processed.

Health Plan officials point out, however, that if there is insufficient or inaccurate detail provided on the claim form, it is rejected and requires rectification within the Alberta Health Plan office, if possible, or where necessary, by reference to the person submitting the claim.

First Bonspiel At Weekend

Membership fees are the same as previous years at $35 per member and $25 per member for anyone over ten miles from town.

A recent general meeting in the club lounge was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The ice lanes are taking on a slippery finish and with the help of the weatherman, the ice plant and some energetic club members will be ready for the Masquerade Mixed Bonspiel on October 27th and 29th.

Please submit your entries for the bonspiel to Ron Tyerman, Bert Telford or Hank Shimbashi.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"What goes on in this neighborhood is none of my business - it's just a hobby."

The lunch-time conversations of a group of construction workers had, for two weeks, been monopolized by a young self-styled Hercules who was a newcomer to the job. Each day the workmen suffered in silence as he strutted and bragged about his many remarkable feats of strength. Finally it grew to be too much for one old-timer in the group. "Look here, son," her interrupted. "I've got ten dollars that says I can move a load in a wheelbarrow that you can't wheel an equal distance." "You've got a bet, gramps," replied the youngster, with a wink at the others in the group. "O.K." said the old man, pointing to a wheelbarrow. "Get in."

INDIGESTION AND PATENT MEDICINES

Different people associate different symptoms with indigestion, the Canadian Medical Association reports.

The most common symptoms are pain in the stomach and chest, fullness or bloating in the abdomen, an excessive amount of gas, heartburn, loss of appetite and even nausea. Most people find these symptoms occurring soon after meals, and more frequently after eating certain foods. Sometimes they associate headache and constipation with indigestion.

There are many patent medicines available without prescription which are supposed to be useful in the relief of any or all of these symptoms. The three main groups are antacids, laxative and headache remedies.

Antacids are taken to counteract the effect of the hydrochloric acid normally present in the stomach. Taking large amounts of antacid may, however, disturb the chemical balance of the body and cause such complications as kidney stones.

The constant taking of laxatives to relieve constipation may interfere with the absorption from the intestine of vitamins and other important food factors.

Some of the drugs commonly used in headache tablets have been shown to cause inflammation of the kidneys.

The C.M.A. says, these are but three examples of why it is unwise for people to administer to themselves large amounts of patent medicines. The other very important factor, of course, is that the symptoms they are treating may be due to an underlying disease. It would be more sensible for the individual to consult his doctor.

Attractive Features In Bond Series

A new series of Canada Savings Bonds, which combines attractive new features with last year's best-ever interest earnings, went on sale throughout Alberta Monday, October 2nd.

Purchasers will be able to double their money over the 13-year term of the new series if they choose the compound interest option similar to that introduced last fall with the Centennial Series of Canada Savings Bonds. The interest yield is an average of 5.45% a year if the bonds are held to maturity.

This year's Series will have these three new features:

1. A starting interest rate of 5 1/4% a year, the highest initial return ever on a Canada Savings Bond.

2. A broadened eligibility which for the first time will allow corporations, businesses, churches, endowments, trusts, clubs, charities, fraternal and other associations resident in Canada to purchase Canada Savings Bonds.

3. An increase in the maximum amount of the issue which one purchaser may hold, $50,000 compared with last year's $10,000 limit.

The new series retains all the traditional features of Canada Savings Bonds. Among the most important of these is the fact that holders may cash them, at any time at any bank in Canada, for their full face value plus earned interest computed monthly.

They are also a good investment to keep. Annual interest payments start at 5 1/4% for each of the first six years, rise to 5 1/2% for each of the next three years, and then move up to 6% for the last four years. The average annual interest yield when held to maturity is 5.48%, equal to that offered in the Centennial Series.

Bonds may be purchased for cash or on instalments from banks, investment dealers, stock brokers and trust and loan companies as well as on the popular Payroll Savings Plan.
